

FAMILY MEDICINE

PAPER –IV

FLM/J/13/08/IV

Time : 3 hours

Max. Marks : 100

Attempt all questions in order.
Each question carries 10 marks.

1. What is a family? Describe the various types of families. What is a problem family? What is the role of family in health? 1+3+2+4
2. What is primary health care? Enumerate the elements of primary health care? Briefly describe the elements of primary health care with suitable examples. 2+3+5
3. Briefly discuss various types of communications and barriers of communications. Describe the various functions of health communication. Enumerate commonly used audio visual aids in the practice of health education. (3+2)+3+2
4. What is planning and management? Describe briefly the various steps involved in planning cycle. Enumerate management techniques based on quantitative methods. Describe briefly the network analysis. 1+4+2+3
5. Classify genetic disorders. Enumerate chromosomal disorders. What is the role of genetic predisposition in common disorders? Describe the various preventive and social measures relating to genetic disorders. 1+2+3+4
6. What are the components of a health information system? What are the various uses of health information? Describe briefly the various sources of health information. 2+2+6
7. What is family medicine and what is a family physician? How does the approach of a family physician differ from a public health expert? Explain with examples. (2+2)+6
8. What is self medication? Why do people indulge in self medication? What are its disadvantages? How can it be prevented? 2+3+2+3
9. What are the National Health Programmes adopted by Government of India? What are the components of NRHM? Describe the role of ASHA. 5+3+2
10. What is disability? What are the new concepts in dealing with disabled people? How can a home be made disabled friendly? 2+3+5
